LAB 2

1.Did your estimates match up with the effort it took?

Yes, the size of story points matched up with the relative effort each task took. The bigger tasks were assigned higher story points.

2.Were your Product Backlogs properly prioritized?

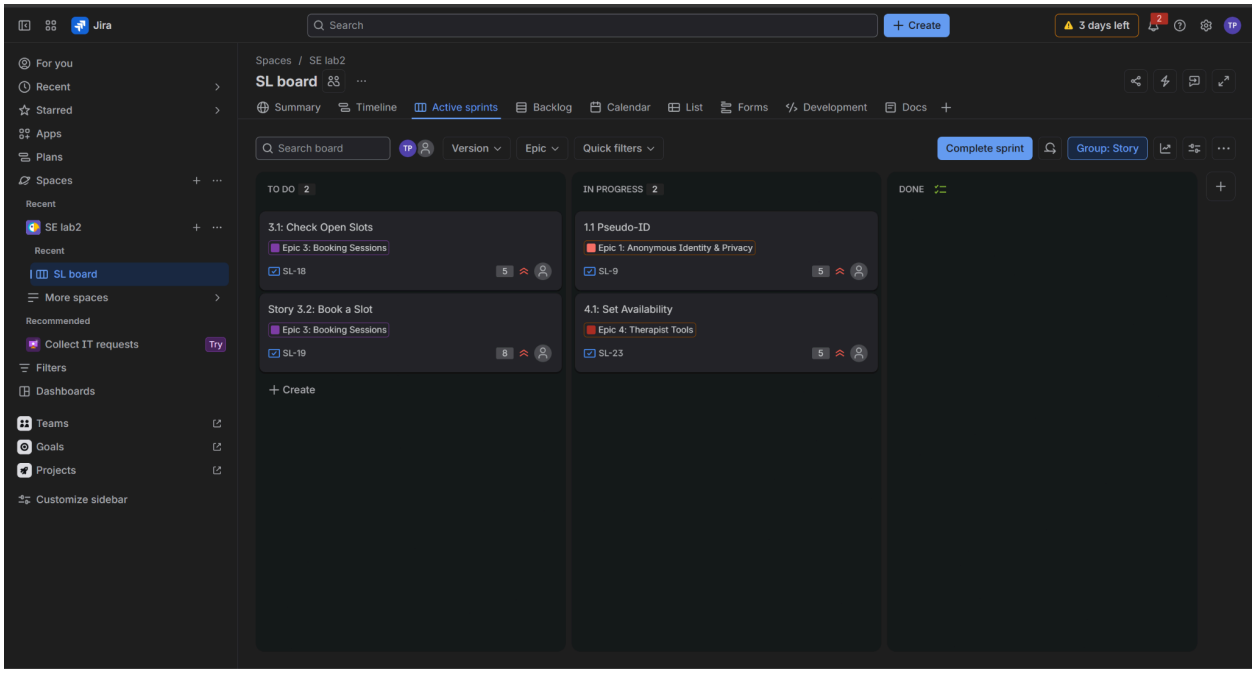

Yes, the Product Backlog was prioritized by what features were most important to marketplace functionality. Stories like payments/order-related features had higher priority.

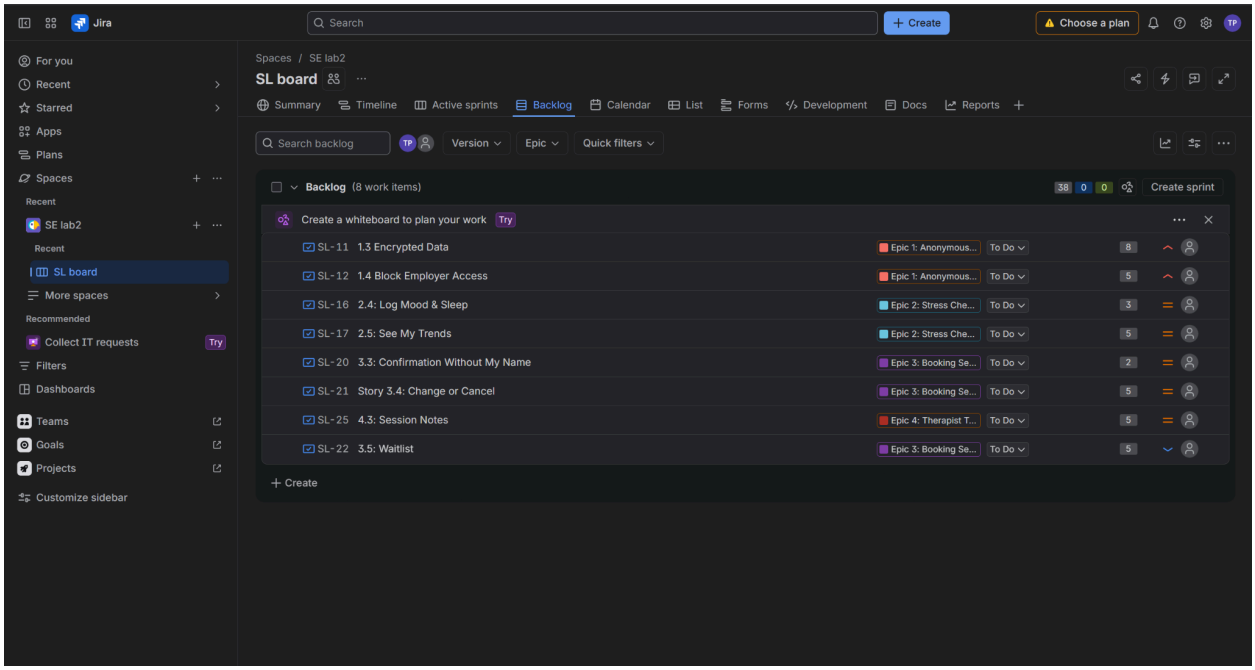

3.How did your fake sprint compare to your plan?

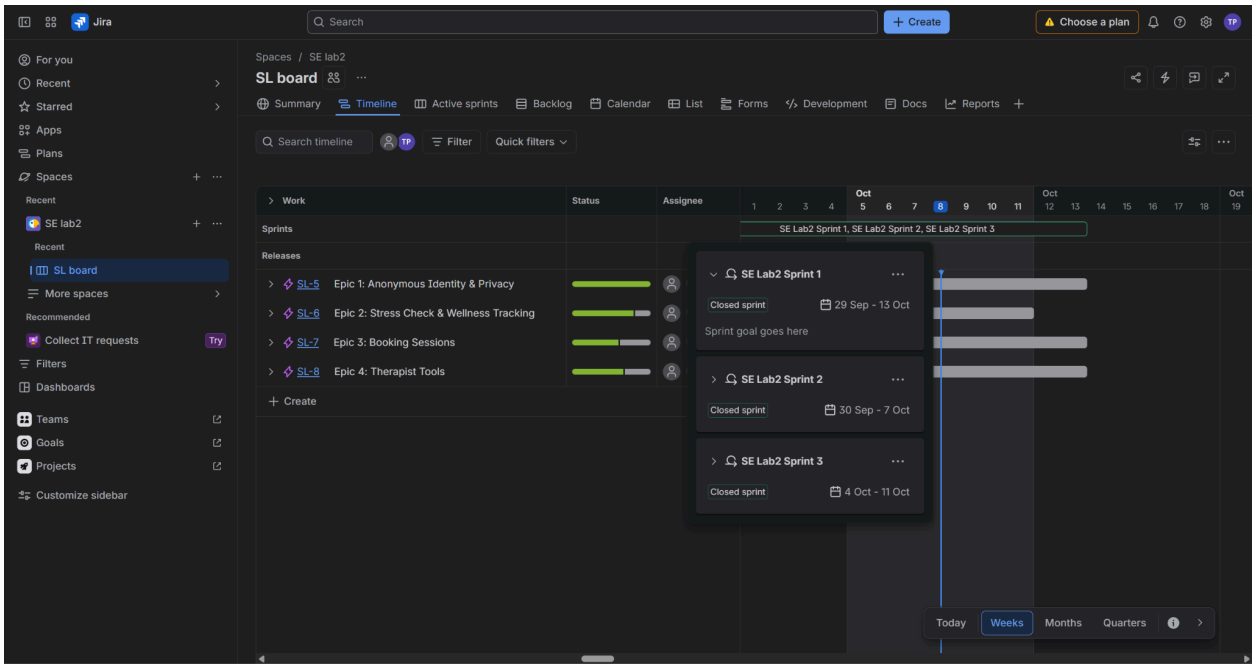

Our sprint matched up with our plan since we completed all five stories we chose to do during our sprint. Our sprint had a total of 21 story points.

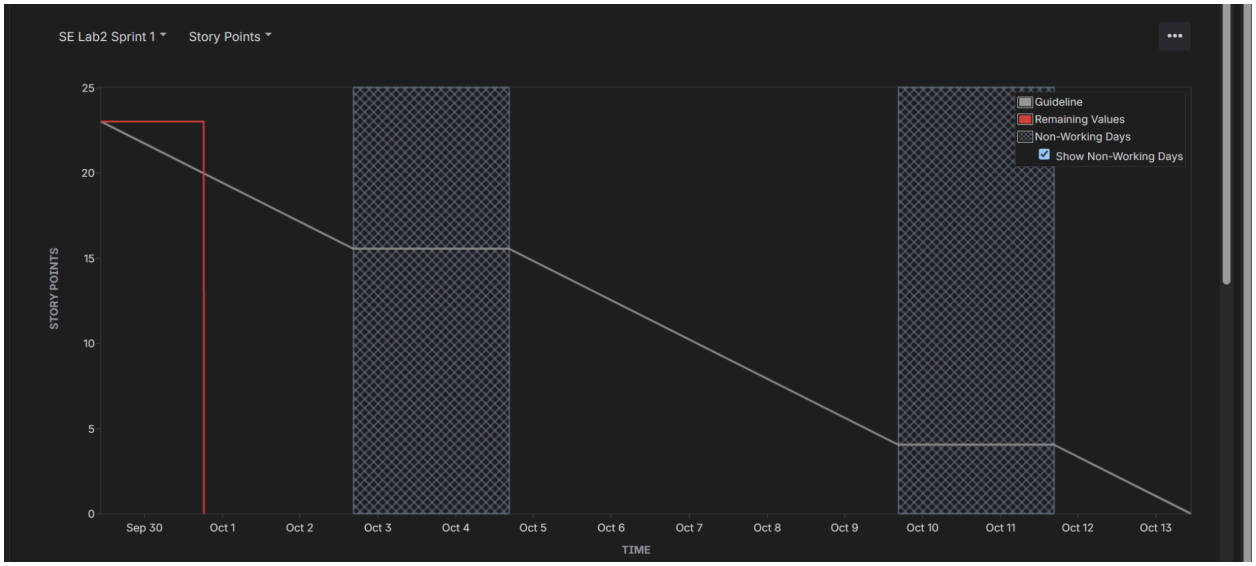

4.What did your burndown chart tell you about your team's capacity?

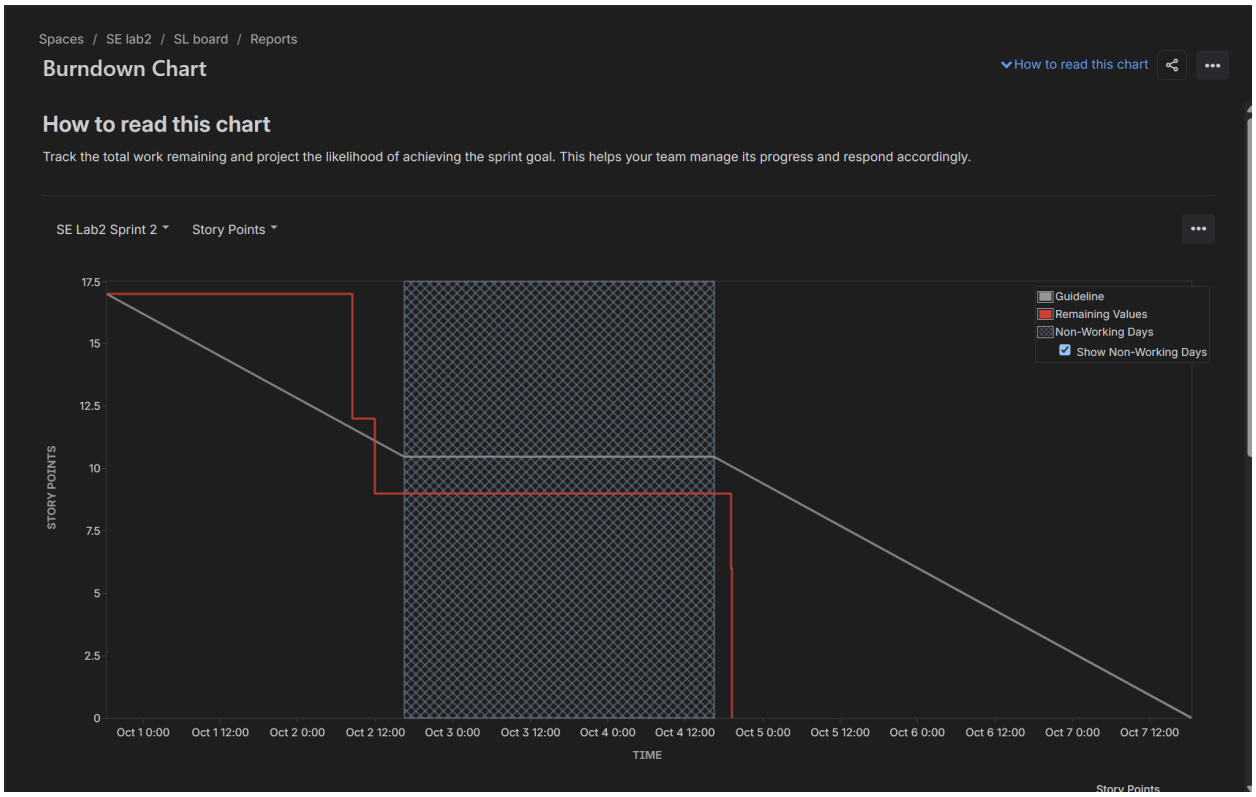

Our burndown chart showed us that we were able to complete all 21 story points we had assigned to complete during our sprint.
